Packer Gets Paint Job

Thursday was regular pick-up day for the town of Appomattox, but householders looking out their windows could have seen a sparkling white packing body on a new Chevrolet chassis. The town has just purchased the new chassis, with teams 3 and 6 will begin play at 7 p.m.

On Thursday night, Feb. 25th, the winners of games played on Monday night will be playing at 8:30 p.m. and the winners of games played on Tuesday night will be playing at 7 p.m. in the Turner Gym. The winning teams of the games played on Thursday will be competing in the Championship Game being played at 9 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 26th, in the Turner Gym, immediately following the Girls' Championship game.

All the games in the Varsity Boys' Tournament will be played in the Turner Gymasium at Lynchburg College. Tickets for the Monday, Tuesday and Thursday night games will sell for $1.50 for both student and adult, for the Championship Games to be played on Friday night will be $2.00 each.

Remember, the Junior Varsity, the Girls' Varsity and the Boys' Varsity teams will all be playing for the Championship of the Seminole District at the Turner Gym on Friday, Feb. 26th, first game beginning at 6 p.m. for the J. V. Championship, second game for the Varsity Girls' Championship title beginning at 7:30 p.m. and the third game, beginning at 9 p.m. will determine the Championship team for the Boy's Varsity Basketball of the Seminole District.

Our three teams representing Appomattox stand an excellent chance of grabbing the Championship Titles, so let's plan now to get out and support the home teams!

Seedling Orders Now 261,000

So far, a total of 261,000 loblolly pine seedlings have been sold to Appomattox county landowners. County forester Warren Taylor and Chief Forest Warden David M. Smith say that this is a good record, and there are, hopefully, more sales to come. As in former years, these seedlings are being matched by Continental Can Co. and West Va. Pulp and Paper Co. Continental Can is providing free seedlings for the Vo-Ag Department at ACHS.

Anyone interested in planting trees should get in touch with the Taylor or Smith as soon as possible, 352-7279 or 352-7624. There is a possibility of a shortage of seedlings, and interested landowners are urged to order right away.

Landowners interested in reforestry can receive a substantial reimbursement from REAP – Rural Environmental Assistance Program, (formerly ACP) which is administered through a county committee, with office manager, Newton Jennings.

'Heart Sunday' Volunteers Seek $1800 Quota

Sunday, February 21, has been designated as "Heart Sunday" in Appomattox. More than fifty volunteers will be knocking on doors asking for donations to the Heart Fund so that this county can meet a quota of $1,800.

Part of each year's total giving returns to Appomattox county in the form of vital equipment for the Rescue Squad Loan Closet and help is available from the Heart Fund for educational materials.

Ivey Holland is county chairman.

Council Will Study Traffic Problem In Town

Upon the suggestion of town councilman Robert Hubbard, vice-mayor Mrs. Calvin Robinson has appointed a committee to study the intersection of Lee-Grant Avenue and South Church Street.

Mrs. Robinson, presiding in the absence of the mayor, Henry B. Pack, during Appomattox Town Council meeting Monday night asked that the mayor and town manager C. S. Booth meet with the street committee: Burke Guill, chm., Thomas E. (Sonny) Conner and Mrs. Robinson to study the matter of the Lee-Grant-South Church intersection to promote safety there. At present automobiles edge over to the left, says Hubbard, causing a hazard to approaching vehicles who want to turn into Lee-Grant from S. Church St. It's a matter of clear vision.

School Board Studies Budget

The Appomattox County School Board studied budget figures Friday in a three-hour meeting concerned with many school activities and programs.

Two additional substitute teachers were approved: the Rev. A. L. Eastman and Mrs. Young of Farmville.

The school board approved plans for a summer instructional program for pre-schoolers, basically the same program as that of last year, explained School Supt. Earl J. Smith. Federal funds (Title I) underwrite the cost.

Director of instruction, Eugene Peyton said that "progress was excellent" among the 100 children enrolled last year.

Salary scales were studied for teachers next year.

The Supt. Smith revealed that it costs about $575 per pupil to educate youth in this county. He said, also, that two additional classrooms are needed to house high school students next fall. Use of the old dormitory was discussed as a possibility. Whether the State Board of Education would permit installation of mobile classrooms at the high school is open to question, said Supt. Smith.

Board Of Supervisors Discusses Redistricting

Roger Fielder, Eagle Scout, shakes hands with Supervisors' chairman, Otho W. Martin, Jr. as other board members, (around table) O. H. Tolley, Mrs. Aldah Gordon, clerk and John C. Cole greet the Scout who was accompanying county forester Warren Taylor on his day's round of appearances and duties, including a report made to the board as a part of its regular monthly meeting Friday morning.

J. Danny Simpson, president of the Jaycees, looks on as H. W. (Billy) Conner, Appomattox postmaster and the first president of the Jaycees signs a petition asking supervisors to hold their regular monthly meetings during nighttime hours.

Petition Circulates To Have Supervisors Hold Night Meetings

Submitted by
Appomattox County Jaycees

In the next few weeks, most of the registered voters in Appomattox County will be given an opportunity to sign a petition to the Board of Supervisors asking that they hold their regular monthly meeting at nighttime in order to give the working citizens a chance to attend their meetings.

The Jaycees and other interested citizens have committed themselves to circulate this petition because they firmly believe that every single citizen has the right to attend any or all of the Board of Supervisors' meetings. At present the Supervisors meet once a month, normally at 9:00 o'clock in the morning each second Friday. Next meeting will be Friday, March 12.

The Board of Supervisors, elected by the voters of the county, make decisions that affect everyone such as: dog ordinances, school finance issues, the rate of taxes, those utilities or properties that will be taxed and other matters that are of extreme importance to everyone.

The Jaycees urge all concerned voters to participate by signing the petition or helping with its circulation.

No Decision On School Bond Referendum

Board chairman Otho W. Martin reported at Friday's meeting of Appomattox county supervisors that Circuit Court Judge G. F. Abbitt, Jr. has not made a decision as to who will determine magisterial district lines in Appomattox county.

Martin's report followed a resolution by the board last month to Judge Abbitt to redistrict the county. Redistricting is mandatory this year in the Va. Constitutional revision passed in the last general election.

In setting up equal population distribution among the districts, no greater than 5% error is permitted in any district. No fewer than three districts can be set up nor more than eleven. Appomattox county now has three districts, Southside, Clover Hill and Stonewall.

The chairman said that Judge Abbitt has not decided whether to determine the districts, himself, or to appoint a committee.

Redistricting will be important to the county election in November if any of the three supervisors' seats has more than one candidate.

Cloverhill supervisor O. H. Tolley reported to the board that he "could not make a true decision" as to making a second motion by Southside supervisor John C. Cole that the board request a second school bond referendum. The referendum calling for the issuing by the county of $2 million in bonds to build a new central high school was defeated in November 1970, by six votes, 1,755 to 1,749.

Mr. Tolley said that in the 24 hours previous to the board meeting he had received so many phone calls, visits and petitions both for and against the holding of the referendum that he would have to wait for further study on the matter.

Commonwealth's attorney H. G. Lawson asked the board to notify the State Dept. of Welfare and Institutions that he is planning to meet with Commonwealth's Attorney Jack Snoddy of Buckingham about the possibilities of a regional jail.

Supervisors voted to purchase insurance coverage totaling $349,250 on court house buildings plus an additional $33,500 valuation on furnishings, equipment and other contents.

The board voted to install a center railing on the main Courthouse steps.

The board accepted J. Danny Simpson's resignation as a member of the Regional Air Pollution Control committee. No successor was named.

Dog warden Leonard C. Garrett told the board that the public should be reminded that the dog license deadline has passed. He said that license purchases so far are lagging.

January 31 was the deadline for all dogs to have an annual tag. Accompanying the fee for each dog should be a certificate showing that the dog has received rabies vaccine.

Garrett added that dog owners may "expect a visit" if their dogs do not have tags.

County forester Warren Taylor introduced Roger Fielder to the board. Roger, an Eagle Scout, was accompanying the forester on his day's duties.

Taylor asked the board's approval to cut timber in May at the "poor farm" property owned by the county on Road No. 632

He said further, that seedlings would soon be available for planting. The county's share of the cost of 16,000 seedlings will be $52.00 with matching funds from the West Va. Pulp and Paper Co. for a total cost of $104.00.
